For Such a Time as This

We lead music in a time of a changing church. Come explore the challenges and opportunities some of these changes present. What skills are needed to lead smaller assemblies and ensembles? How do we help our congregations talk about music in new ways? How do we lead music in a more relational style? A brief opening conversation, workshops on working with the musicians you have and building skills to lead small ensembles, and a closing Easter Prayer Around the Cross provide the structure for this day of learning and fellowship.
